

National Municipal Portfolio of CEFs, Series 72

The Advantage of Tax-Free Income Potential

Guggenheim created the National Municipal Portfolio of CEFs to offer investors a diversified allocation to closed-end funds with substantial exposure to municipal bonds, and seeks to provide investors with stable, tax-free income potential.

When assessing the return of an investment, the impact of taxes can be substantial and should be considered. By investing in municipal bonds, investors may receive attractive, tax-free income when compared to taxable investments.

Taxable-equivalent yields represent the amount of return an investor would need in a taxable investment to earn an after-tax return equal to that of a tax-exempt investment. The bar chart below highlights the taxable-equivalent yield of a 6 percent tax-exempt yield for various tax brackets. The taxable-equivalent yields of municipal bonds can make them more appealing than taxable bonds—especially for investors in higher tax brackets. However, a portion of the income may be subject to the alternative minimum tax as well as state and local taxes.

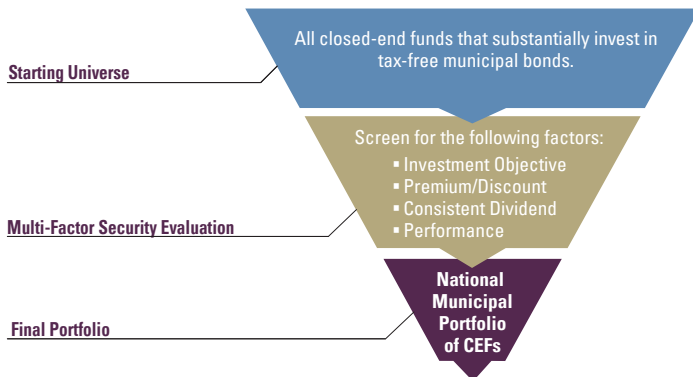

Based on 2026 federal tax rates. Taxable-equivalent = (tax-exempt interest rate) x [1/(1-your tax bracket)]. The information contained herein is for educational and illustrative purposes. This chart is not a representation of future yields. Actual yields may be lower or higher than the example. Capital gains, if any, may also be subject to tax. If bonds are purchased at a discount, there will be a larger portion of taxable ordinary income. The tax consequences of distributions may vary by individual investors. Income exempt from regular federal income tax may be subject to the U.S. federal alternative minimum tax, as well as state and local taxes. Investors should consult their tax professional or financial advisor for more information with regard to their specific situation.

Security Selection

Guggenheim Funds Distributors, LLC (the Sponsor) has selected for the portfolio closed-end funds believed to have the best potential to achieve the Trust’s investment objective. The Trust seeks to provide monthly income that is exempt from federal income taxes by investing in closed-end funds that invest substantially all of their assets in tax-free municipal bonds.

When selecting closed-end funds for inclusion in this portfolio the Sponsor looks at numerous factors. These factors include, but are not limited to:

Income may be subject to state and local taxes as well as the alternative minimum tax. Capital gains, if any, may also be subject to tax. To the extent that any of the underlying closed-end funds invest in anything other than municipal securities, investors may be subject to federal taxes as well.

Investment Objective

The National Municipal Portfolio of CEFs, Series 72 (Trust) seeks to provide current income and the potential for capital appreciation.

Key Considerations

- Stable Tax-Free Income Potential: Limiting the impact of taxes by earning tax-free income can contribute to greater overall returns over time in a well-balanced portfolio.
- Diversified Allocation: The portfolio invests in multiple closed-end funds that can provide a diversified allocation to municipal bonds across credit quality, maturity, and geography.
- Investment-Grade Rated: The portfolio seeks to maintain an average quality of investment-grade while seeking to provide investors with attractive income.

CREDIT QUALITY RATINGS

Source: Morningstar, 4.30.2026. Credit quality is an assessment of the credit worthiness of an issuer of a security. Ratings relate to the underlying bonds and not the units of the Trust or their value. Ratings are measured using a scale that typically ranges from AAA (highest) to D (lowest). The approximate portfolio percentage is based upon the fair value of the underlying bonds. All securities except those labeled “Not Rated” are rated by one of the following Nationally Recognized Statistical Rating Organizations (NRSROs): S&P Global Ratings, Fitch Ratings Inc. and Morningstar DBRS.

The National Municipal Portfolio of CEFs, Series 72 is a Unit Investment Trust.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS: As with all investments, you may lose some or all of your investment in the Trust. No assurance can be given that the Trust’s investment objective will be achieved. The Trust also might not perform as well as you expect. This can happen for reasons such as these: • Securities prices can be volatile. The value of your investment may fall over time. Market values of the Trust’s securities fluctuate in response to various factors affecting an issuer. Events including but not limited to war, terrorism, natural and environmental disasters, public health emergencies, political and diplomatic events both domestic and (continued on back)

There is no guarantee the issuers of the securities included in the Trust will declare dividends or distributions in the future. The HADD of the securities included in the Trust is for illustrative purposes only and is not indicative of the Trust's distribution rate. The HADD is the weighted average of the trailing twelve-month distributions paid by the securities included in the portfolio and is reduced to account for the effects of fees and expenses, which will be incurred when investing in the Trust. RISK CONSIDERATIONS: (continued) abroad, are impossible to predict and may adversely affect the economy, various markets and issuers, which may negatively impact the performance of the Trust and the Trust's ability to achieve its investment objectives. • The Trust includes CEFs, which are subject to various risks, including management's ability to meet the CEF's investment objective and to manage CEF's portfolio during periods of market turmoil and as investors' perceptions regarding CEFs or their underlying investments change. CEFs are not redeemable at the option of the shareholder and they may trade in the market at a discount to their net asset value. CEFs may also employ the use of leverage which increases risk and volatility. • The CEFs are subject to annual fees and expenses, including a management fee. Unitholders of the Trust will bear these fees in addition to the fees and expenses of the Trust. • The value of the fixed-income securities in the CEFs will generally fall if interest rates, in general, rise. Typically, fixed-income securities with longer periods before maturity are more sensitive to interest rate changes. • A CEF or an issuer of securities held by a CEF may be unwilling or unable to make principal payments and/or to declare distributions in the future, may call a security before its stated maturity, may reduce the level of distributions declared, or may suspend dividends. This may result in a reduction in the value of your units. • At any point in time, the financial condition of a CEF or an issuer of securities held by a CEF may worsen, resulting in a reduction in the value of your units. • CEFs held by the Trust invest in municipal bonds, which are fixed rate debt obligations that generally decline in value with increases in interest rates, an insurer's worsening financial condition, a drop in bond ratings or when there is a decrease in federal income tax rates. Municipal bonds may be subject to the alternative minimum tax on individuals, as well as state and local taxes. • Economic conditions may lead to limited liquidity and greater volatility. • The Trust may be susceptible to potential risks through breaches in cybersecurity. • The Trust is subject to risks arising from various operational factors and their service providers. Although the Trust seeks to reduce operational risks through controls and procedures, there is no way to completely protect against such risks. Please see the Trust prospectus for more complete risk information.
